Terms & Conditions

Boumy will only accept returned products that are shipped back within 14 days from the delivery date of your order.

Make sure all returned products are in the same condition as you received them, including shoe fillings inside the shoe, the product label still attached and in the original packaging. Boumy will not accept items that have been worn.

The original price paid for the product(s) will be credited. Transportation costs will not be credited.

Boumy highly recommends using trackable mail or delivery confirmation. Without this, lost packages will not be refunded.

We will reimburse the amount via your original payment method within 5 working days. Please note that depending on the payment process the creditation might take some additional days.

For our general terms & conditions please check our website www.boumy.com
